

Participate in Economics Experiments

- Register online to participate in behavioral research in the field of laboratory-experimental economics.
- Registration does not obligate you to participate – you will receive e-mail invitations to participate in specific experiment sessions.
- A fun, interesting, and potentially profitable experience that usually requires 1 to 2 hours.
- Typical cash earnings are $10-$15 per hour, but are based on performance so there are no guarantees.
- Economics experiments use no deception, risks are minimal, and participation is totally voluntary.
- Participation requires complete fluency in English reading and verbal-comprehension skills.
